JEW GOODS.

Our stock of Dry Goods, Millinery and Notions for spring and summer is now very full and complete. The purchases were made by Mr. Ayres in person, who remains in New York the entire season and buys only when the goods are the right kind and quality, and the prices are the very lowest that cash can obtain. To farmers and mechanics we can offer the best goods in the market at prices as low as any house in he west, and that very few houses can duplicate. Come and see for yourself.

GENERAL MARKET REVIEW. MONEY NOTES.

FINANCIAL SCIENCE. PAPER BY PROP. W. G. SUMNER, READ BE-

FORE THE SOCIAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION. hobby and no "bill" to offer, may be of use to the honest financial student. Prof. Sumner said: In looking at the actual circumstances of the country it will not be expected that this report shall enter into facts. The general features of that situation are well known to all. Its character is such as to cause the gravest anxiety to those whose aim it is to develop the method and such as the produced political and mercantile slanders. aim it is to develop the methods and conditions of national prosperity. The causes for this can be easily determined. They lie in those errors against which the association has been compelled to protest from year to year, and which many of us are bound to combat on all proper occasions. History furnishes us hundreds of illustrations of the very evil to which a disordered tions of the very evil to which a disordered currency gives rise. The decline of national and mercantile credit, the deterioration of public morals, the contempt for patient industry as compared with smartness, the increase of the class of middlemen, the love meretricious display, are all old worn-out features in their purity of fictitious and inflated currency. These are its mera, and social effects, which to this Association must always be of the highest importance. But its financial effects are no less disastrous. that there should be sudden crises, erratic developments, heats and chills in the financial history of the country. We can expect nothing but a series of them so long as the system lasts. A community in which one-half preys upon the other cannot prosper. This brings me to speak of one of the wider social aspects of the subject, its bearing upon the socialistic doctrines. Especially, in a period of industrial stagnation, when a suspension of credit has drawn a provement. The lumber market is good for when a suspension of credit has drawn a great majority of the population into the debtor relation, such dectrines gain power.
It is true that they don't take on such forms as in the nations of Europe. It belongs to our science to recognize principles their various manifestations, which It has often been urged that if the distribution was made, the equality could not last an hour. There are only two means by which the distribution of property can be made, except by the law of exchange. One is by gift, the other by robbery. Robbery is the sort of transfer which it is the province of society to reduce to a minimum. There seems to be great reason to fear that the power in this socialistic direction is becoming greater. Sometimes the opposition of those who resist it is often disposed of as selfishness, the money power, the oppression of capital, ecc., but it is nothing but the desire of the man who has earned something not to have it taken away from him. It is necessary that such a policy shall bring

RUIN ON THE COMMUNITY. It will arrest the industrial power of the we are already placed far behind where we ought to be. If the people divide upon the at $1 03 for choice grades. country for half a century. By this policy question by geographical division, it will bring results in the political situation of the country that will make great distress. This likely to happen, but because in view of the great interest at stake, it should be brought before those who are in the position to educate public opinion upon this matter. There is a fund of good sense and intention in the minds of the people on this subject to which we must appeal. If we fail in this the situation is hopeless. We also consider the organic laws which underlie all these questions. The moiety and revenue laws are diseases of the financial system. We must expect that time, labor, and agitation must be spent in trying to cure the symp-toms, ins ead of searching out the cause of the disease and applying remedies. The revenue system and the currency are inter-twined. The system under which we have been living for 12 years, testing it, has developed is results. We look in vain for that one or that group which has gained by the system. Each one of hem, when charged with obtaining a benefit from it, is able to prove its distress. Undoubtedly they all tell the truth. The system is issued in pure wasts. It is much to be regretted that we have not the information which would have been had if the former investigations of the commission of internatevenue had been kept up. But it seems as though bigrotry on this subject must at last give way. The idea that government can give what it can not take, has at least the sanction of sacred tradition, for any one who attacks it is met with suspicion and denunciation. The argument that we have immense attacks it is met with suspicion and denunciation. The argument that we have immense resources, with every form of production, surpassing those of every other nation, and therefore that we ought to pay more for everything than anybody else in the world, will ruin itself at last. In the circumstances of this country to day, the agricultural interest is the one upon which any error must finally fall. It is not to be denied that the agricultural interest of the country is, at the agricultural interest of the country is, at the present time, crushed. The bonus given to the creation of unnatural forms of industry is taken from the legitimate sources of our national wealth. It cannot be denied that it Indianapolis. is in transportation that this error comes home to the agriculturist. The system of wasteful taxation comes in to rob them, to frustrate their hopes, and snatch from their hands that for which they have struggled. In the country at large this system has educated the people into some peculiar doctrines of political economy, which tollow legitimately from the protective system. The most generally received notion in political economy seems to be that the way to successful production consists in knowing how to not strange that abor also has taken up this notion, and suplied it to its own case. The labor marks is distracted by efforts to lessen the bours of labor, and earn without working. If a man can get all the things he wasts by working only eight hours, let him be happy. He ought to be happy, for he is an exceptional man. Another thing seems to be born of the interference system. This applies at present especially to the south. There is cotton and water power, and it is immediately inferred that manufactories ought to be introduced to use the water power and manufacture the cotton.

Likewise, homilies are addressed to the south to raise food there, so as to be independent of the west. Here we have the doctrine of local independence brought down to its lowest limit. The form of production at any given place will be that one which at that place gives the best return to labor and capital. If all the labor in South Carolina can be best placed on the produce ion of cotton, then nothing but cotton will be produced there, and nothing else they have not raised rice also, the only true inference is that they ought to have improved their means of communication with the rice-growing district. I have thought proper totali attention to these false notions arising from the pernicious interfe-ence system, because they bear on the labor question and on the South. Scarcely anything that a body of men is called upon to do requires more bal-ance of mind and intelligence than to perceive and correct mistakes. Our misfortunes sme from our mistakes. The war lett a The views of a scientific man who has no lead of mistaken notions, difficult problems hobby and no "bill" to offer, may be of use and some disordered enthusiasms and deeply fore us, and the most useful work we can do, at any rate to-day, is to demolish these

IMMIT PRODUCTION.

The market is controlled by combinations of the greatest interests. The old notion that it was the business of government to make work has been sconged to death. We now have the new one that it is not the business of a rean to make att he can, and he lives in few lest be should create soo much work. It is not strange that labor also has taken up this not strange that is distracted by efforts to lessen the burn of labor, and earn without the strange of labor, and earn without service. It a mon can can all the things.

An Independent Newspape

THE INDIANAPOLIS SENTINEL

THE NEWSPAPER OF INDIANA

UNTRAMMELED AND NONPARTIRAN

path last year, the Sentinel defined at length and in detail its purposes. To these who have watched that course it reasserts its claim for continued countenance and loyal support. The Sentines promised last year perfect indepen ence from all partisan ties. It promised earnest, unrelaxing efforts in the production and presentation of a wholesome, refined and trustworthy news medium. In the success of that effort it has the condition. dium. In the success of that effort it has the con-dial endorsement of a vast number of its cotem-porary journals, and the written assurance of a great constituency of ministers, teachers, lawyers and families. The measure of the Sentinel's success is, however, best shown by the position which it has taken within the year, as the first newspaper of the State, and a leading newspaper of the West. To this fact nearly every journal of intelligence and discrimination in the State has borne testimony, as well as the swelling list of new readers who have joined its ranks friends. This in a general way.

For the next year the Sentine reaffirms to attitude in the pest year—the organ of no party or creed—the temperate advocate, only, of the-most generous measures in Church and State. 16 will continue to publish all the news at the ear liest mement. It will reflect the sentiments of the people, and hold itself outside of all party ties. It will support only honest men for office and demand a pledge of character, not party. It will uphoid sealously the hands of all men hon-est and earnest in reform, no matter what their country into all the hardships of war and per-

Under whatever conditions reform may come the Sentinel will give its best efforts for its success, maintaining at all times its own perfect freedom to uphold and maintain genuine, not imulated reformation.

On the great industrial questions, now moving the public mind, the Sentinel will maintain arty, earnest co-operation with all struggline men seeking to better themselves mentally. physically, and every way. It believes that the present revenue laws work mischievously and discriminately against the producer and in favor of the non-producer, and that any reform which does not make farmer's rights and revenue reform solid planks of its platform and active measures in its policy, does not deserve the sympathy of intelligent men The Farmers' movement received its first recognition in this section be directed toward the strengthening of that design. In its opposition to political, railroad and financial monopolies, the Sentinel will continue an honest support. While furthering all interests in this direction, wisdom must be called in to keep the crusade against publicabuse, monop clies, and the like, from degenerating into demagoguery. In all emergencies of this nature, the Sentinel will attempt full and impartial justice

Concerning its general features as a newspaper, the Sentinel will hold its rank as the foremost in the State, by a continuance of the same policy of liberal expenditures whenever events of moment occupy the public mind. The features for which this paper has become popular and dis-tinguished during the last year, will be carried out still more fully, if possible, the coming year, and every department made of vital, abiding inminister, the lawyer, the educator-in short, all classes who want a pure and upright press, uptrammeled by party and unwarped by prejudice The Sentinel is not only the ox spletest news the year-for the 355 days-omitting no publice tion on any pretext. It is, in this respect, one 68 In short, the Sentinel means to keep shead of the brilliant progress of the State. It means to give voice to the most liberal, enlightened and laims a distinctly special mission. It depends on its character as an independent and feat news medium for growth and support, nakes no pretext of cheap premiums to second oiled, are the fullest, most diversified and comources in the country. Its law, educational and industrial reports, which have attracted general attention in the past, shall be continued we equal care and accuracy in the future, and cost spared in perfecting such details as will reve fer them in every way the features of Indias better able to present a complete newspand? quently enabled to give all sides of current conroversies, irrespective of prejudices of men or parties. As a reflex of the growth of Indianapolts, the Sentinel takes marked precedence of all rivals. Its city columns are fuller in detail and more accurate in preparation than any similar department in the West, and the fact is ateated by the Sentinel's universal circulation in the city. The Sunday Sentinel reaches a greater constituency than any dally in the State, and increases at an unexampled rate from week to week, not only in the city, but throughout all RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.
